Report of the Subsidiary Body for Implementation
Matters relating to Action for Climate Empowerment

Version 19/11/2026 15:00

Proposal by the COP 31 and CMA 8 President and President of Negotiations

[Draft decision -/CP.31; Draft decision -/CMA.8

Action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme on Action for Climate Empowerment

The Conference of the Parties and the Conference of the Parties serving as the meeting of the Parties to the Paris Agreement,

Recalling Articles 4 and 6 of the Convention and Article 12 of the Paris Agreement,

Acknowledging that climate change is a common concern of humankind and that Parties should, when taking action to address climate change, respect, promote and consider their respective obligations on human rights, the right to a clean, healthy and sustainable environment, the right to health, the rights of Indigenous Peoples, as well as their land rights and traditional knowledge, and of local communities, migrants, children, persons with disabilities and people in vulnerable situations and the right to development, as well as gender equality, empowerment of women and intergenerational equity,

Recalling decisions 18/CP.26, 23/CP.27, 22/CMA.3 and 22/CMA.4,

Recognizing that Action for Climate Empowerment plays a key role in promoting the changes in lifestyles, attitudes and behaviours needed to foster low-emission, climate-resilient and sustainable development,

Affirming the key role that a broad range of stakeholders, such as national, regional and local governments, educational and cultural institutions, museums, the private sector, intergovernmental organizations, non-governmental organizations, international organizations, decision makers, scientists, the media, journalists, teachers, youth, Indigenous Peoples, local communities, environmental [human rights] defenders and women, play in ensuring Action for Climate Empowerment,

Acknowledging the growing interest and engagement of youth in climate action and the critical role of youth as agents of change and calling for further enhancement of youth participation in climate change processes and in unleashing the potential of Action for Climate Empowerment,

[Recognizing the contribution of [African people and] people of African descent to climate action,]

1. Welcome the conclusion of the midterm review of the Glasgow work programme on Action for Climate Empowerment at the sixty-fifth session of the Subsidiary Body for Implementation[1] and affirm that the Glasgow work programme continues to provide the scope and basis for activities related to implementing Action for Climate Empowerment in accordance with the provisions of the Convention and the Paris Agreement;

[1] See para. 11(g) of decisions 18/CP.26 and 22/CMA.3.

2. Take note of the annual summary report for 2026 by the secretariat on progress in implementing activities under the Glasgow work programme,[2] which includes information on progress in implementing the action plan for 2022–2026 under the Glasgow work programme;[3]

3. Adopt the action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme, as contained in the annex;

4. Reaffirm the importance of all six elements of Action for Climate Empowerment – education, training, public awareness, public participation, public access to information and international cooperation on climate change – for achieving the objective of the Convention and the purpose and goals of the Paris Agreement[4] and agree that the action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme will be implemented in such a manner as to foster all six elements of Action for Climate Empowerment in a balanced manner;

5. Recall that the Glasgow work programme shall be guided by a country-driven approach, cost-effectiveness, flexibility, a gender and intergenerational approach, a phased approach that integrates Action for Climate Empowerment activities into climate change programmes and strategies, the promotion of partnerships, networks and synergies, in particular synergies among conventions, an interdisciplinary multisectoral, multi-stakeholder and participatory approach, a holistic systematic approach, and the principles of sustainable development;[5]

6. Emphasize that the action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme should be implemented in an inclusive, intergenerational and gender-responsive manner;

7. Affirm that Parties and non-Party stakeholders, when designing and implementing Action for Climate Empowerment activities, including those in the action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme, should apply whole-of-society approaches, in accordance with national priorities, needs and circumstances, that enable, as appropriate, the full, meaningful and equal participation of all members of society, including children and youth, all women and girls, older people, Indigenous Peoples, local communities, [African people,] people of African descent, environmental [human rights] defenders, migrants, persons with disabilities and people in vulnerable situations;

8. Recognize that ensuring the availability of and access to sufficient financial resources and technical support for adequately implementing Action for Climate Empowerment continues to be a challenge for all Parties, but particularly for developing country Parties;

9. Recall that, in the context of the Glasgow work programme:[6]

(a) Parties and relevant non-Party stakeholders were invited to engage in and support implementation of the Glasgow work programme while maintaining a country-driven approach;

(b) Multilateral and bilateral institutions and organizations, including the operating entities of the Financial Mechanism, as appropriate, were invited to provide financial support for Action for Climate Empowerment activities;

(c) Intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations in a position to do so were encouraged to provide technical or financial support for Action for Climate Empowerment activities;

(d) The secretariat was requested to promote partnerships with other organizations, the private sector and donors in order to support implementation of the Glasgow work programme;

10. Affirm that the provisions referred to in paragraph 9 above also apply in the context of the action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme;

[4] Fourth preambular paragraph of decisions 18/CP.26 and 22/CMA.3.

[5] Para. 3 of the annex to decisions 18/CP.26 and 22/CMA.3.

[6] Paras. 5, 6, 9 and 10 of decisions 18/CP.26 and 22/CMA.3.

11. Note the need to enhance efforts to promote and support the integrity of information on climate change in the context of Action for Climate Empowerment as well as efforts to advance international cooperation in this regard;

12. Recognize the centrality of equity and the best available science for effective climate action and policymaking, as provided by the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change;

13. [Also recognize the need to promote climate change education as a lifelong learning process, including by considering how transformative educational impacts can be achieved and which targeted strategies and tools can be used to guarantee the access to education of people in vulnerable situations, particularly children and youth, older people and persons with disabilities;]

14. Request the secretariat to include in each annual summary report under the Glasgow work programme information on progress in implementing activities included in the action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme;

15. Invite Parties and non-Party stakeholders to submit to the secretariat by 31 March of each year for the duration of the action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme, via the submission portal,[7] suggestions for structuring the annual Dialogue on Action for Climate Empowerment, such as proposed speakers and guiding questions, so as to enhance the effectiveness of the Dialogue in meeting the needs of Parties and the broader Action for Climate Empowerment community;

16. Also invite Parties and non-Party stakeholders to submit information by 31 July of each year, via the submission portal, on progress, challenges and improvements related to implementation of Action for Climate Empowerment, including with regard to accessibility and availability of financial and technical support, and any other information they deem relevant for implementing activities under the Glasgow work programme and its action plan, as input to each annual summary report under the Glasgow work programme with a view to the annual summary reports informing Parties in the context of the final review of progress under the Glasgow work programme at the seventy-fourth session of the Subsidiary Body for Implementation (June 2031);[8]

17. Take note of the estimated budgetary implications of the activities to be undertaken by the secretariat referred to in paragraph 14 above and in tables 1–4 of the annex;

18. Request that the actions of the secretariat called for in this decision be undertaken subject to the availability of financial resources.

Annex

Action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme on Action for Climate Empowerment

[English only]

1. The action plan for 2027–2031 under the Glasgow work programme on Action for Climate Empowerment (ACE) sets out short-term, clear and time-bound activities in the four priority areas of the Glasgow work programme[9] (see tables 1–4)[10] aimed at addressing gaps and challenges related to implementing the six ACE elements[11] and creating opportunities to accelerate their implementation.

2. Parties, the secretariat, UNFCCC constituted bodies and relevant organizations are invited to undertake the activities set out in the action plan as appropriate.

3. The action plan will be undertaken in such a manner as to advance implementation of all six ACE elements in a balanced manner.

4. The objectives of the priority areas (policy coherence; coordinated action; tools and support; and monitoring, evaluation and reporting)[12] are as follows:

(a) Regarding policy coherence, to strengthen coordination of work under ACE, recognizing that activities related to ACE are also carried out under workstreams that are part of the UNFCCC process, as well as under frameworks and processes of the United Nations system and in multiple sectors and strategies at the national level;

(b) Regarding coordinated action, to continue to build long-term, strategic, operational, multilevel, multi-stakeholder, intergenerational partnerships that bring together different expertise, resources and knowledge to accelerate ACE implementation;

(c) Regarding tools and support, to enhance access to tools and support for building capacity and raising awareness among Parties, national ACE focal points and non-Party stakeholders with regard to ACE;

(d) Regarding monitoring, evaluation and reporting, to strengthen monitoring, evaluation and reporting of the implementation of all six ACE elements at all levels, according to Parties' specific priorities, needs and national circumstances.
